

Interior Design Company
Tampa's first modern design center

Jill Lifsey – Biography

Innovative and energetic is a Tampa Bay based Interior Decorator and owner of District Designs, specializing in modern design. District Designs is a true reflection of the chic innovation that makes Jill and her work stand out within the market.

District Designs is not only a 3,000 square foot showroom for furniture and uniquely modern home accessories, but it also serves as headquarters for Jill's full-service design firm specializing in high-end residential and commercial interiors with a goal to create a home or commercial space that is unique to each individual client. Jill had the vision and seized the opportunity to offer unique, creative pieces and has expanded the business throughout the Bay area, including clients in Tampa, St. Petersburg, Clearwater and most recently even as far as New York City and abroad.

Jill considers her work as modern while still incorporating traditional design aspects of placement, color and pattern. Each design is instinctively done for the client, based on individual needs, wants and likes. With over 15 years of experience, Jill has developed a strong network of vendors and sources and the innate ability to pull these components together and create amazing custom designs that clients love. "While I specialize in modern glamour, we at District Designs can create any look imaginable," says Jill. "I take the time to get to know my clients and research the products that will best suit their lifestyle."

Many of Jill's works have been featured in a number of publications, including Home Accents Today, Flair, South Tampa Magazine, Tampa Tribune and Blu Magazine. Most recently, the Tampa Tribune selected District Designs as the 2009 Best of South Tampa for Interior Design.
